

PEOPLE'S PUBLIC POLICY CASE COMPETITION 2022

Organised by Christ Academy Institute of Law, Bengaluru in association with Centre for Environmental Law, Education Research and Advocacy (CEERA), National Law School of India University, Bengaluru (NLSIU) under the aegis of the Chair on Urban Poor and the Law, Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, Government of India.

ABOUT THE INSTITUTIONS

ABOUT NLSIU

The National Law School of India University, the country's most prestigious law school, was established by a Notification issued under the National Law School of India University Act (Karnataka Act 22 of 1986). It marked the culmination of efforts by the Indian judiciary, the Bar Council of India, the Karnataka Bar Council, Bangalore University, and the Karnataka government to reform legal education and build a centre of excellence for legal education and research in the country. The UGC, the Government of India, the Government of Karnataka, the Department of Women and Child Development, UN agencies, the World Bank, HIVOS, the Department of Justice, and others have all financed research initiatives at the Law School. The projects have improved research and teaching at the Law School. Since its founding, the National Law School of India University has taken proactive initiatives to organise conferences, seminars, workshops, refresher courses, and certificate courses to keep academicians, law teachers, students, and industry employees up to date on a variety of topics.

ABOUT CEERA

The Ministry of Environment and Forest (MOEF&CC), Government of Karnataka, the Bar and the Bench in India and overseas are all supporters of the Centre for Environmental Law Education, Research and Advocacy (CEERA), which was founded in 1997. CEERA's key goals include creating an environmental law database, successfully networking among all stakeholders, establishing an environmental law community, and conducting environmental policy research.

CEERA has worked tirelessly and successfully to establish functional and professional links with government agencies and non-governmental organisations in India, the South Asian region, and at the worldwide level in order to achieve the aforementioned goals. For more than eight (8) years, CEERA has collaborated with the Central Pollution Control Board to organise training programmes for officers of various State Pollution Control Boards and other industry professionals. CEERA has been entrusted with research projects and workshops to impart training to Forest Officers, Revenue Officers, Officers of the Central Pollution Control Board, and also the Government of Karnataka. CEERA was one of the first in India to be granted a World Bank project and has since been a consistent choice for the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change. CEERA is proud to have completed a two-year research project funded by the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) through the Global Environment Facility (GEF), as one of the deliverables of which was to organise, convene, and conduct over twenty workshops at prestigious national institutions to raise awareness about Biodiversity Law and Access and Benefit Sharing (ABS) in less than two years. This study also resulted in two research publications in the sparsely researched subject of biodiversity legislation. CEERA is now working on a three-year project titled "Collaborative Engagement for Research, Training, and Development in Chemical and Hazardous Waste Handling" that was funded by the Ministry of Environment, Forestry, and Climate Change. The project's broad aims include, among other things, advising the Ministry on topics relating to the Conference of Parties under different Multilateral Environmental Agreements to which India is a signatory.

CEERA publishes several publications in the areas of environmental law, the law, and public policy, as well as newsletters, CEERA March of the Environmental Law, NLSIU's first e- Journal – Journal on Environmental Law, Policy, and
